Integrated T1 Connections. Voice and Data T1 Lines.

Many businesses and organizations are combining voice and data together. The reasons are varied, but the advantages include a single point of contact for all voice/data needs and sometimes a more cost-effective solution.

We will work with you to determine the appropriate telco relationship or Voice over IP (VoIP) solution. We offer complete turnkey voice/data solutions, including completely managed services, voicemail, unified communications, WAN design and integration, e-mail and hosting services.

NOVACON's vision of providing mission-critical connectivity and outstanding customer service pays big dividends.

NOVACON was incorporated in 1996 on the belief that the demand for business connectivity would rapidly increase well into the next decade. We believed that to build a significant business as a top Chicago Internet Service Provider, our passion for delivering a high degree of reliability would be critical to our success. These beliefs are true as we deliver great customer service at fair prices.

In recent years, we've built on that foundation with expanded services and becoming a state-registered CLEC (Competitive Local Exchange Carrier). Novacon has succeeded in becoming a profitable regional business-only ISP in a significant market niche. Our size, expertise and resources make us a preferred choice over other ISPs, while our 24/7 availability and attention to detail distinguish us from the large telcos.

Locally owned and accountable, NOVACON delivers T-1 and larger connections to the Internet and among remote locations throughout Chicago, the U.S. as well as globally. Our multiple upstream providers and an all Cisco network ensure maximum uptime and reliability.

Our team of customer service reps, technicians and technical partners design and maintain local (LAN) and wide-area networks (WAN) for your large or small organization. You receive from us security with firewalls and VPN services. Our data centers in Chicago and Northbrook house servers (Co-Lo) for all area businesses and municipalities.

For businesses seeking to consolidate voice and data into one solution,

NOVACON offers integrated T-1 connections and outstanding Voice over IP (VoIP).

We continue to invest in our network and in our people. In 2003, we are upgrading core hardware, including our mail servers. We are improving anti-SPAM and virus protection while providing additional consulting services, such as security. Our staff is growing and receives ongoing training and resources.
